Dear Parents,

You and your child are invited to participate in a research project promoting child communication and development with the use of an intervention focused on the parent-child relationship

Why participate?

- To better understand your child's communication and developmental challenges and to help you in your parenting role
- Increase knowledge on children with communication and developmental difficulties
- Support available medical and educative services to families

For who?

- Parents and children aged 1 to 5 years old
- Children diagnosed with an Autism Spectrum Disorder (ASD)
- Families who have already received services or are waiting for services at their clinic

Compensation

- $25 gift certificate for your child
- $25 for travel expenses
